Ever wonder what it’s like working for a government agency or a large pharmaceutical company? Join us for a lunch and learn session with Dr. Heather Benz and Dr. Lindsay Wendel-Clegg on company culture and work-life balance!

Dr. Heather Benz is a Principal Investigator at the FDA leading research and regulatory efforts in Health Informatics. She’s worked with digital health giants including Apple, Samsung, and Fitbit, and was awarded the FDA Commissioner’s Award of Excellence.

Dr. Lindsay Wendel-Clegg is a scientist at AstraZeneca in Quantitative Clinical Pharmacology. During her PhD, she was a Siebel Scholar and a recipient of the David Yue Award for Exemplary Doctoral Research. Both speakers received their PhDs in Biomedical Engineering at the Johns Hopkins University. Discussions will focus on career transitions after the PhD and what it’s like working outside of academia. Please come with questions and help guide the discussion!

Lunch will be provided!
